What AI assistants say about your business

We ask the questions your customers ask across ChatGPT, Claude, Gemini, Perplexity, show every answer word for word, give you a ranked list of what to fix, then measure again.

Every answer, word for word

Each answer shows the assistant's model name and the date it was asked. You read what your customers would have read.

Every figure shows its denominator

A question set is at least 15 questions across four assistants, so a run has at least 60 answers. A rate always says how many answers it comes from.

Reported only when two assistants agree

Nothing is reported as a finding unless two assistants independently confirm it. There is no composite score.

A ranked fix list, then measured again

Fixes are marked small, medium or large. Each month the same questions are asked again so you can see what moved.

Included: Your first audit and monthly measurement (12 runs a year), your fix list and movement, in your own branded portal.
